Free Hugs at Rutgers Student Center
04/08/14 11:48AM

LIVE O/C

Rutgers students at College Ave campus shared many hugs and smiles during R-United's annual "Free Hugs" event last Thursday. A few students holding "Free Hugs" signs approached their peers at the student Center bus stop for hugs.

Grace Hong stating purpose of event.

It's for something called Jesus Awareness Week, JAW for short, to spread love and happiness to everyone in the world.

LIVE O/C

The group of about fifteen students successfully hugged most of their peers who walked by and will be back next year for more.
